WALL STREET AND TAMMANY

Roosevelt Declares That They Have Joined Hands.

BEGINS NEW YORK CAMPAIGN

Former President Delivers Addresses in Ten Cities—Says That There Is an Alliance Between Corrupt Business and Corrupt Politics—Declares Murphy Dominated the Democratic Convention.

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 15.—With one broadside for Tammany Hall and another for Wall street, Theodore Roosevelt opened his campaign for the Republican state ticket. The next of his speech was "Wall street and Tammany Hall have struck hands."

His slogan was: "You are wanted in room 212. Are you going?"

Room 212 in a Rochester hotel was occupied by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall during the Democratic state convention.

Back in his native state from his Southern tour, Colonel Roosevelt started things going in his first speech of the day at Dunkirk. He spoke at Fredonia, Sinclairville, Gerry, James town, Salamanca, Wellsville, Hornell, Corning and Elmira. The crowds in the early part of the day were not large and there was little cheering. Later in the day the crowds grew larger and there was more enthusiasm.

Colonel Roosevelt had only one theme for his speeches. It was what he termed the alliance between Wall street and Tammany Hall, which, he said, was the most complete alliance between corrupt business and corrupt political bosses which the state had seen since the days of Tweed. If the Democrats should win the election, he said, Tammany Hall and Wall street would dominate the state to the detriment of the people. Opposed to that he pictured the Republican party as the true representative of popular rule and Henry L. Stimson as a man who would flinch at no opposition and be turned aside by no influence from serving the people. He discussed no concrete issues, state or national, but clung to the statement that the issue was Tammany Hall and Wall street against the people.

Roosevelt Pledges His Word. Colonel Roosevelt pledged his word that Mr. Stimson, if elected governor, would administer his office for all the people.

"If my career, if my life means anything," he said at Jamestown, "it means that I never say on the stump anything I do not say in private; I never say anything I don't believe and that I don't make a promise unless I try to keep it. So I ask you to take my words at their face value when I speak to you."

Then he asserted that Wall street was a unit for the men nominated at the Rochester convention, "because they know they cannot handle the men nominated at Saratoga."

In all of his speeches Colonel Roosevelt emphasized what he said was the complete domination of the Democratic convention by Mr. Murphy.

"Everything was settled in a room, the private room of the boss of Tammany Hall, Mr. Murphy," he said. "Whenever Mr. Murphy wanted to see any delegate, whether for the purpose of discipline or to be beneficent to him, the peremptory message was sent out, 'You are wanted in room 212.' The whole matter was settled in room 212 and the convention, with humble eagerness, responded to the message sent out, 'You are wanted in room 212,' and now Mr. Murphy, as the agent and ally of Wall street, sends to the people of the state the message, 'You are wanted in room 212.' Well, are you going?" Mr. Roosevelt shouted to his hearers.

DANCE HALL FIRE IS FATAL

Black Hills Miner Burned to Death at Lead.

Lead, S. D., Oct. 15.—For the second time within two years a dance hall on Blecker street was destroyed by fire, causing the death of Frank Askins, a miner, and the injury of three young women.

The building contained about twenty persons. Nearly all the women escaped to the street, but one fell and broke her leg, while two others were burned about the hands and feet and several were carried out unconscious by firemen.

The loss will be about $20,000, partially insured.

A cigarette stub is supposed to have been the cause of the fire.

Horel Out of Hospital.

Couderay, Wis., Oct. 15.—Bert Horel, shot through the shoulder Sept. 6 by John Deltz, returned to his home at Winter after five weeks in the hospital and under physician's care. He is still unable to use his right arm. The wound has healed, but is still painful.

CHARLES F. MURPHY.

Tammany Hall Leader Scored by Roosevelt.

TO FEDERAL SUPREME COURT

Case Involving Lumber Rates Will Be Appealed.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Steps were taken by the interstate commerce commission looking to an appeal to the United States supreme court of cases which were decided against it a few days ago through the findings of a master of the United States circuit court at St. Paul. The cases involved an increase in the freight rates on lumber and forest products generally from the North Pacific states to Missouri river transfer points and Chicago points.

The action against the commission's order was instituted by the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific and the Missouri Pacific Railroad companies. It was an effort to restrain the commission from putting into effect the rates on lumber which it had prescribed. The findings of the master approved by the court as a part of its decision, practically fixed the rates in accordance with the desires of the railroads.

INFORMANT MAY GET BIG SUM OF MONEY

Likely to Be Rewarded for Telling of Frauds.

New York, Oct. 15.—An anonymous note sent to William Loeb, Jr., collector of the port of New York, precipitated the sensational raid on the Fifth avenue establishment of Duveen Bros., art dealers, and the arrest of two members of the firm, Benjamin J. and Henry J. Duveen, charged with conspiracy to defraud the government out of more than $1,000,000 by undervaluation of imports.

Mr. Loeb made this announcement, but for the present he declined to make public the name of his informant, whose identity he learned subsequently, and it may be kept secret until the Duveens are placed on trial. In the event of fines being imposed or duties recovered from the firm or its members it was pointed out that the anonymous informant will be in line for the reward given by the government for evidence resulting in such convictions. And if the alleged frauds prove as extensive as customs officials stated this moiety probably will be between $100,000 and $500,000.

Loomis Will Filed.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The will of the late Mrs. Mary Hunt Loomis, widow of Colonel John Mason Loomis, has been filed for probate. Thirty-five relatives and close friends, eight old servants and several charitable institutions are given bequests amounting to several hundred thousand dollars. These bequests are in addition to the trust fund of $1,250,000 made available for Loomis Institute at Windsor, Conn., by Mr. Loomis' death.

Tag Day for Charity.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 15.—On Nov. 2 every man, woman and child in Grand Forks and East Grand Forks will have an opportunity of showing his appreciation of the newly organized Associated Charities. The date has been set aside as tag day and ladies will supply tags bearing the letters "A. C." (Associated Charities) to all contributing any cash amount from 1 cent to $100.

Bad Fire at Brookings.

Brookings, S. D., Oct. 15.—Fire damaged the Caldwell & Wilson building about $2,000 and the hardware store of the Brookings Hardware company about $6,000. Most of the loss on the stock was from smoke and water. Loss fully covered by insurance. Spontaneous combustion is given as the cause.

Oldfield Breaks Record.

Readville, Mass., Oct. 15.—Despite his recent disqualification by the American Automobile association because of his proposed race with Puggillist Jack Johnson, Barney Oldfield raced against time at a regularly sanctioned meet at the Readville track, breaking the track record for one mile. Oldfield covered the mile circuit in fifty seconds flat. The former record was fifty-four seconds, made by Ralph de Palma June 17, 1908.

BODIES FOUND IN A SWAMP

Militiamen Find Those of Three Fire Victims.

SIGHT IS A GRUESOME ONE

All of the Clothing Burned From the Corpses—Kleag Brothers Went to the Rescue of John Alfeson and All Perished—State Board of Health Takes Charge of Sanitary Situation in Burned Towns.

Baudette, Minn., Oct. 15.—In the depths of a swamp, nine miles east of Baudette up Silver creek, a piece of undoubted heroism and self-sacrifice which cost three lives in the holocaust last Friday was revealed to twenty Duluth and Bemidji national guardsmen who went out to bury the dead. They were sent by General Fred B. Wood in response to a report that the bodies of Nels and Martin Kleag and John Alfeson had been found. The men were under command of a lieutenant of Company K of Bemidji. Wood for the coffin was given by a settler on the way up. Another settler whose family escaped death only by a miracle gladly gave horses and a sled, the only form of conveyance that could penetrate the forest into which it was necessary to go.

The men went on through the silent scenes of devastation wrought by the fire without a sound of another living thing to listen to, not a bird, a squirrel, a butterfly or a mosquito. Beside the slender path cut through chaos of blackened tree trunks the charred body of a porcupine was seen. At the ashes of the cabin of John Alfeson was the dead body of a rabbit sitting upright, killed by the blast as it sat on its haunches. Two horses, which had been fleeing together through the woods, were lying within eight feet of each other so instantly had they been knocked down as they ran. In the very densest part of the swamp the men in khaki came upon the bodies of three men lying separately and about twenty-five feet apart. Two were on their backs. One lay on his face with his left leg straining into the ground in a last spasmodic effort to get on toward the muskeg swamp toward which the men had been heading, which might have given them relief from the flames. Not a piece of clothing was left on any of the bodies. They could be distinguished only by their weight, dimensions and general appearance.

Signs of Their Flight.

The story of self-sacrifice was mutely told in the signs of the flight. The two Kleag boys, Nels, twenty-one years old, and Martin, eighteen, left their cabin when the smoke rolled in upon them and went to get Alfeson, a bachelor like themselves, forty-three years old.

When they reached his home, their return to safety in a root house, a quarter of a mile back, was cut off and the three of them took the only other chance and attempted to get into the muskeg swamp. They were stricken down like helpless insects as they plunged through the tangled cedar swamps.

In the party accompanying the national guardsmen were two brothers of the dead men, Sibert and Ole Kleag. They looked on the shocking sight with set faces, on which the men under Lieutenant Hillary refrained from glancing.

The bodies were placed in pine boxes constructed on the scene and taken to the little cemetery at Silver Creek, where they were lowered into graves.

The state board of health took charge of the sanitary situation here with the arrival of Dr. H. W. Hill and George D. Haggard. They put in a busy day of work inspecting all possible sources of infection of typhoid and other scourges and in giving instructions to the residents, and sent for the portable hydrochloride plant used by the board of health.

On the way to Baudette they stopped at International Falls and Fort Francis to make examinations as to the condition of Rainy river, which they found badly exposed to typhoid germs. Dr. Haggard will remain here to see that in the reconstruction of Baudette and Spooner proper sanitation is provided for. Both men say that with the precautions taken to date there will be no epidemic. Dr. H. L. Lamb of Sauk Center, first lieutenant and assistant surgeon of the Third infantry, M. N. G. arrived with five privates of the hospital corps. They have established headquarters for the corps.

Strike May Follow Discharges.

Winnipeg, Man., Oct. 15.—Thirty-two motormen and conductors of the Winnipeg Electric Railway company were discharged by the company for drinking in uniform, running past corners and other breaches of the company's rules. The union, it is said, will stand by the men and a strike appears very probable.

Senator Dolliver Improving.

Fort Dodge, Ia., Oct. 15.—Senator Dolliver continues to improve. No threatening complications have set in. That he is not afflicted with valvular leakage of the heart, as has been rumored, was the statement made by Mrs. Dolliver. The senator is steadily increasing in strength.

CLAUDE GRAHAME-WHITE.

English Aviator Circles Dome of the Capitol.

CIRCLES THE CAPITOL DOME

Claude Grahame-White Makes Successful Flight.

Washington, Oct. 15.—In a narrow street, upon a selected spot, after an aerial flight of more than six miles across the city, Claude Grahame-White, the English aviator, dropped his aeroplane at the side door of the White House. The flight occupied only ten minutes.

On the way thither, at a height of nearly 500 feet, he circled the dome of the Capitol and passed the lofty Washington monument level with the apex.

He landed between the great buildings of the state, war and navy departments and the low structure of the executive offices, in a space where the slightest deviation from his course would have impaled him upon the spikes of the iron fence around the White House grounds at his right or smashed him against the granite wall at his left.

The airship struck the asphalt paved street squarely in the middle and rolled 200 feet farther up the stone and iron hedged lane in as straight a line as an automobile could have moved.

President Taft was not "at home" to receive his unexpected caller from the air, but Admiral George Dewey was there to grasp the hand of the daring aviator and to offer congratulations.

"I am proud to welcome you," the hero of Manila bay exclaimed.

SITUATION SHOWS SOME IMPROVEMENT

Conditions on French Railroads Are Better.

Paris, Oct. 15.—As a result of the strong measures put in force by the government the railway strike situation continues to improve. With the exception of the Western road, where the tieup still is in force, the traffic conditions are greatly improved.

The government's fears that rioting would follow a meeting of the strikers led to the placing of 10,000 troops in the narrow streets adjoining the hall where it was held. There were no disturbances, other than a few harmless pistol shots and jeers.

After the meeting 6,000 strikers emerged from the hall singing revolutionary airs and shouting "Long live the commune!" Mounted troops immediately charged the crowd and dispersed it.

Among the speakers within the hall were M. Jaures and other Socialists, who adjured the men to fight to the bitter end, declaring that the revolution in Portugal and the unrest in Spain had brought about the psychological moment for the French proletariat to strike an effective blow.

The strong military precautions taken by the government, which included the summoning of six regiments from the provinces, were due to the impression that the revolutionary element was trying to transform the waning strike into open violence. M. Jaures, in L'Humanite, denies that this was the intention of the strikers and urges moderation on their part.

New Trial Ordered.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 15.—A verdict for damages in the sum of $2,000, returned by a jury in favor of John Davey of Bartlett was reversed by the supreme court in a decision just handed down. Davey was struck by a snow plow in the winter of 1907-08. A new trial of the case is ordered by the supreme court. Contributory negligence is the point on which the defense made its case.

More Light for Grand Forks.

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 15.—Approximately $100,000 will be expended in Grand Forks before Jan. 1 by the Red River Power company, owned by H. M. Byllesby & Co. of Chicago, in improvements. The work includes the construction of additions to both the gas and electric plants, the doubling of their capacity, and the installation of a gas and electric service for every portion of the city.

BALLINGER WILL NOT BACK DOWN

RUSSIAN CANAL TO JOIN CASPIAN AND BLACK SEAS.

Greatest Inland Waterway in World to Cost $67,000,000.

The Russian government is preparing to spend more than $67,000,000 in building the greatest inland waterway in the world—to connect the Baltic sea with the Caspian and Black seas. The completion of this vast project is expected to revolutionize economic conditions in the czar's dominions in Europe.

There are two steps in the undertaking. The first is to join the river Drina with the Dnieper at Vitebsk and Orsha. The second is to connect the Drina with the Volga, using the rivers Mesha, Obsha, Warusa, Moskva and Oka. The total length of the route will be 1,525 miles.

Moscow, which is the great commercial center of Russia, will be connected by cheap means of transportation with all the rich provinces of the empire, and the whole of central Russia will be put in easy touch with the seas both north and south.

The Volga now carries three-fifths of all Russian inland commerce. There are regularly on it more than 2,200 steamers and 8,500 other vessels carrying passengers and freight, with a total capacity of nearly 9,000,000 tons. Russia up to the present has never done much to improve her waterways. She has spent in the last half century $3,000,000,000 on her railways and only $40,000,000 on her rivers and canals, although the waterways now carry as much traffic as the railroads.

The annual cost of repairs and maintenance to the across Russia waterway is estimated at $6,500,000.

QUEER NAMES IN BULK.

Lizzie Laziman and Pleasant Pickle on Mail Order Lists.

"Speaking of names," said an employee of one of Chicago's large mail order houses, "we certainly have a host of queer ones on our books. We have sold them bills of goods, and the names, unique though they are, evidently do not hinder the possessors in business. They keep right on ordering our wares."

"A funny feature of the freaks in nomenclature is that they usually run in groups. For instance, in one town we have Clarissa Rushing and Catherine Speedy. Our books also show the names of Hazel Slow, Grace Rush and Peter Quick. Then we have Lizzie Laziman and J. M. Thrift as opposites."

"There are hundreds of others—for instance, Alma B. Rude, Arabella Pigg, F. L. Hogg, Gussie Millions and Anna Poore. Down in Pekin is a girl named Dora Look. Katie Skipper lives in Six Mile Run. What I consider our prize, though," he laughed, "is Pleasant Pickle. Some of the other queer ones are Hattie Slaughter, Della Butcher and Rosebud Crickett."

Restraint Man a Suicide.

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—Paul Juckel, proprietor of the S. & W. lunch room on East Fourth street, was successful in his third attempt at suicide, shooting himself through the heart with a revolver in the presence of his wife and four small children at their home. Several years ago Juckel jumped from the Wabasha street bridge, and was rescued by the police only to try it a second time from the Robert street bridge, this second attempt being also unsuccessful. He was forty-five years old.

Intends to Stand Pat on His Indian Country Order.

WILL NOT CLOSE SALOONS

Secretary of the Interior Will Stick to the Position He Took in His Communication to Indian Commissioner Valentine, Who Was Instructed to Vacate the Order Closing Saloons in Minnesota.

Washington, Oct. 15.—If William E. Johnson, the special agent of the Indian office who is engaged in the work of suppressing the liquor traffic so far as it applies to the Indians, and who is known in Oklahoma and the Northwest as "Pussyfoot," nurses the delusion that he is empowered to close saloons in Cass Lake and other towns in Northern Minnesota, he will soon receive news to the contrary from R. A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior. Mr. Ballinger, who has returned to Washington after an absence of several days, intends to stand pat on the position he took in his communication to Indian Commissioner Valentine, who was instructed to vacate the order under the terms of which saloons were to have been closed in Cass Lake, Moorhead and other places in the "Indian country." Officials of the interior department were surprised upon the receipt of intelligence that Special Agent Johnson had made the statement that the lid would go on at Cass Lake. They declared that either Mr. Johnson was misunderstood or had been misquoted.

The special agent has been, or will be, advised that Commissioner Valentine's closing order has been abrogated, and that the department will proceed for the present to execute the laws prohibiting the sale of liquor to the Indians in co-operation with local authorities. If this preventative measure fails no doubt is expressed by officials that the secretary of the interior will take extreme measures to enforce the law. This means that Secretary Ballinger would enforce generally throughout the Indian country the state regulations that would amount to nothing more nor less than absolute prohibition. Then would follow, officials say, litigation that would undoubtedly be very costly to all parties.

Looks for Improvement.

Secretary Ballinger is inclined to the belief that an improved state of affairs will soon present itself in Northern Minnesota. He has faith in the good intentions of the local authorities and believes that they will bend every energy to prevent the sale of liquor to the red wards of the government. Officials of the Indian office are not so optimistic. Privately they express the opinion that the government will have to draw a line around the reservations within which an embargo shall be placed on the introduction and sale of liquor.

This was what was contemplated in the order of Commissioner Valentine. After a careful review of the case Secretary Ballinger came to the conclusion that it was not the business of the government to discriminate as between cities. He took the position that if saloons were proscribed at all they should be put out of commission throughout the entire region affected. As he viewed it the sole aim of the government was to carry out the terms of treaty law, that is, to prevent the sale of liquor to the Indians. Accordingly he modified the Valentine order.

If Special Agent Johnson closes saloons in Cass Lake, or any other place in the state, interesting developments will follow. Mr. Johnson is a subordinate of the Indian commissioner, who in turn is a subordinate of the secretary of the interior. The order of the secretary of the interior is that no saloons shall continue their work of inquiry, report violations of law to Washington and that where the evidence justifies it prosecutions will follow.

If the department finds, after the present experiment has been tried for a time, that liquor is finding its way into the hands of the Indians, another order will succeed the one recently issued by Secretary Ballinger.

Will Enforce the Law.

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—Following a conference with United States District Attorney C. C. Hought, W. E. Johnson, United States Indian agent, will issue some kind of an ultimatum regarding the Cass Lake territory saloons which come under the Indian treaty, the law which he declares he will enforce to both red man and white man without discrimination.

Half of Fund in Sight.

St. Paul, Oct. 15.—Counting $13,000 reported to have been raised in Duluth and vicinity and about $5,000 in Minneapolis, neither of which funds have yet been turned over to Kenneth Clark treasurer of the Minnesota branch of the Red Cross society, who was designated by Governor Elbertson to receive all the funds subscribed for the relief of the fire swept district, only about one-half of the $100,000, including lodge contributions, desired is now in sight.

The coming legislature promises to be a body—generally—of merit and we hope for good results at its hands.

It is a redemonstrated fact that

Northern Minnesota needs better protection from forest fires to go with the development idea.

We are glad to note that the speaker of the next house is yet in cold storage. After Nov. 8 the fun will no doubt open early, probably, too early.

In the language of the late Senator

Henry Keller, there should be no monkey-doodle business this winter in the legislature relative to fire protection for our forest domain.

Jim Gray is a nice man and shouldn't be judged by the lithograph sent out by the democratic state central committee. Jim may be a high-brow, but not a moody.

If we need $100,000 to advertise

Minnesota's attractions to prospective settlers we certainly need half that sum to guard against such calamities as our northern section has just experienced.

They say the democratic state central committee is worrying about money. There are lots of good people in the same fix—even some newspaper men have troubles of that kind and we are sorry to say.

The campaign is progressing very nice—y—y—for Gov. Eberhart, in fact, our county option friends are happy enough to shake hands with themselves and feel that life is not as bad as it sometimes seems.

Our democratic friends are quite falling over themselves in showering endorsements upon Senator Clapp.

It is pleasing to the senator's friends to see this evidence of sane progressiveness on the part of the Minnesota; but his calling and election is unfettered; but his calling and election is sure—so they can afford to smile at him in that kindly way and it helps to make them feel and look better.

children who formerly lived on the Dodd place. Some have said had read newspaper accounts of death.

a letter dated October 13th reed this morning, Mrs. Carl And-son, of Baudette, writes to her sister, Mrs. Torvald Lee, as follows:

Well, I suppose you are awful frightened about us. Baudette and her are all gone up in smoke, are safe. My God, I never saw anything like it in all my life.

Friday night it started and there was a regular tornado with the fire.
It is what made it so bad. Well, at night we saw the sky was all red way out on our claim, but did not know the danger we were in. Baudette and Spooner were in.

About five o'clock, as we sat eat-our supper flaming cinders came g for miles, and then after it got why the wind started and trees came crashing down all the woods. We just stood in house and shivered. Great big ches flew off the trees.

Carl said, "Albert, let's go up get pa's lantern and try to go anna's." This was about nine o'clock. Then they went after the lantern. Up there right ahead of them dropped a big, dry tamarack tree.

It would have killed them because they could not see their feet. It was so dark. Well, I ate and waited until they came with the lantern. I was almost faint. I had the children dressed to go out the wind changed and came from another direction.

That is what stopped this awful fire. The big muskeg swamp ed one mile from us and the fire that was in the center stopped there, or else we would have been destroyed. The fire came from town swept every house on the other side of the muskeg.

Now when we came to Baudette we was no shelter to stop in. A Burton and his wife and two children just baked right up. Fathered to stop there when he took path to his high land. I don't know what we are going to do. Our house was not burned yesterday, but fire was on the other side of us everybody is running to a place of safety. Now there is not a person on the homesteads. Great luck, to have, but there are people lots of off than we are.

All the people of Baudette and near got up in their night clothes the trains were ready and took people to Rainy River. I was nervous until I heard pa was safe at Rainy River. I guess Carl is alright. All he talks about is glad he was to get us to town y. A man came out to see his son and Carl asked him to carry the pack and he took Merwyn and I the pack sack and my clothes.
The fire was all around us, I died in fire. The trees were ly-sideways ready to drop if a wind came. I climbed over big trees and black. We fell down and ran fell again. People met us. We hardly see our way. When we one mile from town we were almost dead. They gave us wine, suppose you have read a lot of papers about the claims. All timber is gone. You don't know how many people are without homes now. We have got some of stuff buried in the ground, but hard to tell if it is saved. We got only what clothes we stand

We get all we want to eat. The train came in the next day, so is plenty to eat. I cannot tell everything is. Maybe we will come and I can tell you. Maybe we are done out here. We are poor, than ever. Write soon."

W. S. Orne has received the wing letter from Miss Lillian h, a sister of Mrs. J. A. Stepp.
Keath was formerly employed by W. S. Orne store. She writes Warroad, October 14th:

have learned that the family (Stepps) are safe and have probably saved their home. If our children have escaped we are surely glad. I came here Wednesday hoping to have a better chance to hear from them and learned they been to the lake shore for a few days, but had gone back to the claim and as they did not return again I thought their place was all right.

It has not been as bad through there as around Baudette and Spooner.

"It was not so bad but they could get out, as they were not in the path of the hurricane. That last experience I had has unnerved me. I think if I had stayed there and seen them bring in any more maimed and dead I would have gone crazy."

Miss Keath was at Spooner at the time of the fire and lost her clothes and all other possessions, escaping only with what she wore. She had no time to pack a satchel.

SHIP SUPPLIES TO BAUDETTE

Yesterday

Mrs. H. Theviot reports that the Woman's Relief Corps sent 12 boxes and six barrels of supplies to the fire sufferers yesterday, the shipment being made to Baudette. The next shipment will be made next Tuesday.
The ladies sent clothing, underwear, boots, shoes, stockings and other supplies necessary for the refugees.
They wish to thank the people of Brainerd for the generous response made in answer to their appeal for aid.

FESTERS IN IDLENESS

Every social and economic force, like every organ of the human body, decays by atrophy or ulceration when denied the healthful exercise of its natural use. Muscles shrivel when denied their natural movement and bad sores grow on those confined to what Stevenson used to call the "mattress prison."

So all human energies, whether of brain or hand, lose power and fall into decay from inaction. The rapid degeneracy of the idle poor is a proverb of political economy. It takes only a short time to turn the industrious working man into a tramp or criminal by fostering him habits of idleness and discontent.

The degeneracy of idle wealth is not so often made a proverb. Moral teaching prefers to dwell upon the pernicious activities of the evil minded rich. Race horses and chorus girls are pretty bad, but they keep wealth in healthy circulation and the rapid decay of the individual fertilizes the soil of the race.

Money in more prudent hands, condemned to permanent idleness by the safe investments favored by indolence, or enballed in a two-life trust by the mistaken affection of some dead hand, falls into a state of dry rot that infects individuals, families and whole communities. Thrift is all very well until it stops working to save and begins to live on interest.
Then it is time to scatter the saving in livelier hands.

How much of the decay of the American spirit in New England is due to the content of its old families to give upon the income of inherited fortune? Already the trust made fortunes of Pittsburg begin to fester in a second generation of idlers in the industrial vineyard. There is a wide contrast of human efficiency in the great families founded in New York between those who use their talent and those who only feed on it.

In fine, how much of the economic weakness of Los Angeles, as well as its business prosperity and municipal duty, is bred of the public spirit created by a whole community of idle semi-invalids living on their interest?—Minneapolis Tribune.

DEATH OF PIONEER

Nels Erick Erickson, Aged 78. Passed Away Last Night at Residence 923 13th St.

Nels Erick Erickson, aged 78 years an old resident of Brainerd, died at his residence, 923 13th street last night of the infirmities due to old age.

The deceased was born August 27, 1832, in West Winoker, Sweden. He came to this country about July 1863, settling in California and engaging in gold mining. About a year later he joined the Masonic order and his papers show he was a master Mason of Yosemite Lodge No.
133, at Coulterville, Mariposa county, Cal. on March 5, 1864. He returned to Sweden and received from the grand lodge of the Masonic order at San Francisco his diploma signed by William Caldwell Belcher, and also was given a dimitt from Yosemite Lodge. All of these papers were most highly prized by him.

In Sweden he married Miss Mathilda Larson and later, in 1869, he returned to America, settling near Rush City in 1871 and in Brainerd in 1903. To them seven children were born: W. E. Erickson of this city; Mrs. Emma Peterson of Minneapolis; Albert Erickson of this city; Mrs. Cecilia McKay, of Rush City; Oscar Erickson, of Brainerd and Gustaf Nicholas Erickson, deceased, buried at Rush City. He was always an active Mason and helped to organize the Masonic lodge at Rush City. He attended the Swedish Mission church.

The funeral services will be held on Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the residence and at half past two from the Swedish Mission church.
Interment will be in Evergreen cemetery.

Expresses Thanks

We wish to express our thanks to the M. B. A. lodge and our kind neighbors and friends for assisting us through our last bereavement, the death of our dear child.

Congressman Lindbergh Said to Have Purchased Printing Plant for Personal Organ

It is understood that the old Arena outfit has been sold to the Lind-bergh's and the following telegram from Sauk Center in a way confirms the rumor:

"Congressman C. A. Lindbergh of the Sixth district has purchased a printing plant and will issue a progressive magazine, which will deal scientifically with the problems of labor interests, the relation of the government to daily life and farming interests.

"Mr. Lindbergh will continue to send out his letters to the public press from Washington, but in addition he will make known through this new magazine the inner workings of the government and deal with many phases of extraordinary conditions which he has come in contact with in his congressional work.
He expects to supplement what he says in his letters to the press with fuller details of the workings of congress in such a manner that would not find space in the daily newspapers.

"It is learned on good authority that the first issue of the magazine will be from Brainerd in January and that the first series will be 20 copies covering two years at $1 for the volume. Already he has secured the services of some of the most foremost writers and thinkers of the nation, who have been assigned subjects for the new magazine.

"The magazine will be practical and Mr. Lindbergh will edit the issue. The mechanical part will be in the hands of experts and he will have charge of the editorial part.
Its purpose is to reach both young and old with facts and figures and articles by experts on various labor problems, matters of internal government, and farming matters.
"Though none of the writers names have yet been made public, it is anticipated that such advanced men as Senator Dolliver, Beveridge and La Follette and some of the strongest labor leaders will contribute articles."

CROPS IN IOWA

William Milligan, Formerly of Brainerd, Writes Dispatch From Kellogg, Iowa

William Milligan, formerly of Brainerd and now at Kellogg, Iowa, writes the Dispatch regarding crop conditions in Iowa and says:

"We are having fine weather down here. We had a good crop of small grain and quite good corn. Our oats averaged 53 bushels per acre.
I will have 400 bushels of potatoes from two and one half acres. One of my neighbors had 54 bushels of wheat to the acre, but the amount of acres looks very large to me.

"Real estate is worth all a man asks for it down here. Several farms have been sold in the last year for $130 to $212.50 per acre.
One of the farms I owned before I went to Brainerd and which I sold in 1899 for $45 per acre, its present owner has been offered $140 per acre. That is nearly equal to iron lands, isn't it?"

"What did he reply?"
"Use cream."

To dread no eye and to suspect no tongue, is the greatest prerogative of innocence.—Dr. Johnson.

A Conundrum.

Why is a pawnbroker like a drunkard? Because he takes the pledge, but cannot always keep it.

A CARD TO VOTERS

I am a candidate for county attorney, and respectfully ask your support at the polls. I have lived in Brainerd almost 28 years, and, during that time have held several public offices. If my record, either as a citizen or as a public officer, is such that you cannot support me, it is, of course, your privilege to vote against me. If, on the other hand, I have performed my duty as a citizen and as a public officer, I hope to receive your support. I know that I have always tried to do right, and, if elected, I shall continue to try to do right. I believe I understand the duties of county attorney and the growing needs of the county. I shall be guided by these in the performance of the duties of the office, if elected.

Yours Truly,
W. A. FLEMING.

CHARLES D. JOHNSON

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR STATE SENATOR

I favor reappointment, good roads, initiative, referendum, and I heartily endorse the resolutions passed by the Northern Minnesota Development Association.

You Can Work Near a Window in winter when you have a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a portable radiator which can be moved to any part of a room, or to any room in a house. When you have a

PERFECTION
SMOKELESS
OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. A indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. The heater has a cool handle and a damper top.

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or galler cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

Friction and Velocity.

When one solid body glides over the surface of another the coefficient of friction diminishes as the velocity increases and nearly vanishes when the velocity attains a certain critical value. This diminution of friction is due to the air which partially separates the two bodies at low relative velocities and separates them completely at the critical and all higher velocities.

OUR LIFE.

Our life is like the life of a tree—again and again stripped of every sign of life that it has put forth and yet which still has gathered all those apparent failures into the success of one long, continuous growth.—Phillips Brooks.

Little Bobbie 5c Cigar follows the example of

Robert Burns 10c Cigar

in everything but size and price. Half as big, therefore a nickel, but the same family traits in both. Made with the same care, of the same full ripe, well-cured tobacco. Not merely light (color alone doesn't count), but made with naturally mild filler as well as wrapper. When you've time to finish your smoke choose a Robert Burns; when you haven't, don't throw away half of your cigar, but buy the Little Bobbie. Only your pocket book will know the difference. Same dealer sells both.
